LONDON LETTER

SAVOY SEASON BEGINS

LETTER OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER TO BE SOLD

A BRILLIANT NIGHT CLUB

(BY TOWNSMAN)

Sir Henry Lytton's Successor.

London.—Gilbert and Sullivan's season opened last Monday, when all fashionable London seemed to flock to the Savoy Theatre. It was one of those brilliant first nights that bring celebrities together and make movement in the foyers somewhat difficult.

Sir Henry Lytton—most popular of present-day Savoyards sat, leaning over the railed balcony looking thoughtfully across to the stage. He claimed that it was the first time he had seen "The Pirates of Penzance" from the auditorium. Mr. Martyn Green was taken Sir Henry's part, and the audience—most of them Gilbert and Sullivan enthusiasts—watched him with interest.

"Trial By Jury"—brought the legal folk there—they have always loved this witty caricature of the law, and at times one had the impression of having strayed into the Law Courts. Mr. Martyn Green, before a critical audience, passed the very trying test with conspicuous success. He gave a wonderfully exact reproduction of Sir Henry Lytton and even learned the mannerisms of that great artist.

After the last curtain, Sir Henry had a very warm reception, when he made a short speech in which he told about a nightmare he had had, in which he dreamed he had dreamed for the wrong part.

"The Times" Changes.

The Times announces that after October 3rd, it will appear in a new dress. Without altering the size or shape, it will present its familiar features in clearer print which is specially designed for easy reading. Not only legibility of line, but greater comeliness of page has been secured, and a thorough revision made. It will abandon its Gothic type front page title and adopt the simpler new Roman face, based upon an older 18th. century type.

A Scholastic Match.

Miss Barbara Norwood, youngest daughter of the head master of Harrow (Dr. Cyril Norwood) was married on Sept. 24th to Mr. Alexander Rudolf Barbour Simpson, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Barbour Simpson of Edinburgh.

New Traffic Controllers in the West End.

The unusual spectacle of mounted police controlling traffic was seen at the West End this week and it appeared to those who watched that the mounted police had distinct advantages over the traffic controllers on foot; for example, it was easier to see the signals and there did not appear to be any misunderstanding between officers and motorists or drivers of other vehicles. So well trained are the horses that the officers were able to drop the reins and use both arms to control the traffic.

St. Francis Xavier to His King.

Among the 500 autograph letters and historical documents which are described in the new catalogue just issued by Messrs. Maggs, of 34 Conduit Street, W. 1, perhaps the most important item is an original letter in Portuguese, signed by St. Francis Xavier, the Jesuit missionary and Apostle of the Indies. It is said this letter is quite unknown and is not recorded by H. T. Coleridge S. J. in his "Life and Letters of St. Francis Xavier."

Written in Cochin in 1552 and addressed to the King of Portugal, Don John III it consists of a confidential report referring to the Portuguese subjects in the Far East whom the Saint recommends for reward and recognition, notable among them being the Portuguese traveller and writer Fernando Mendes Pinto.

Slum Clearance for Bridge.

Three of London's local authorities are about to embark upon the biggest slum clearance scheme that has ever taken place in the Metropolis. The vast area on the south side of the Thames, known as Blackfriars, during the last 100 years has become one of the most housing areas in London and the congested and dilapidated condition now compels their clearance. Also, it is said, the local authorities want the ground cleared of thousands of the houses in readiness for the long projected new bridge across the Thames at Charing Cross.

Wireless and Crime.

The existing wireless station at Scotland Yard is subject to considerable interference from the tramways on the embankment and the Underground Railway, so much so that at times messages have been undecipherable. For a long time it has been felt that a more powerful station should be at the disposal of the police. Several schemes are being considered including the headquarters of the Mounted Police at Imber Court, Surrey, but no decision has yet been arrived at. The effective use of Wireless in the prevention of crime is well illustrated in the statistics of the "Flying Squad," but in other countries where Wireless has been adopted excellent results have been obtained. In the United States the results from 50 cities in one month, using police squad cars equipped with wireless sets were as follows; Over 12,000 arrests were made directly because of the use of Wireless and property valued at over £70,000 was recovered. Fifteen persons were caught in the actual commission of crimes through wireless communications from other districts.

Retirement of Sir Henry Coward.

Sir Henry Coward, the composer and conductor, proposes to retire from all active work at the end of the present musical season next March, when he will be well over 66 years of age. He states that for the past two or three years he has been giving up conductorships of various musical societies but now he means to finish altogether.

A Fashionable Dance Club.

Members gasped with astonishment as they entered the New Embassy Club on Sept. 28th, at its almost Hawaiian air. So great was the crowd that, according to rumour, some 200 people were turned away during the evening. Guests gave up in despair as they found it quite impossible to obtain possession of a table. People were still arriving in the early hours of the morning and there seemed less room than ever in the Club. Many hostesses, who entertain largely, consider the Embassy their own special preserve and for weeks past they had booked for this important evening.

The club has been redecorated and looks entirely different. The ceiling is sky-blue, with apertures where the lights gleam, and the walls are of carved glass. With so many fashionable parties, one realised that the Season had started—Lady Cunard, and Lady Carisbrooke were amongst the hostesses. Many of them had recently returned from the South of France, and it was evident they had called at Paris for the latest in evening dresses was conspicuous; in fact, the gathering could almost be described as a fashion parade, even to the new craze for covering bare shoulders with epaulettes of swansdown, small fluffy ostrich feathers, or white tulle.

THE SOVIET'S CANALS

TO CONNECT CASPIAN WITH BLACK SEA

Moscow, Oct. 10.—The capital of the Soviet-Union will, it is announced, receive a gigantic inland harbour between the rivers Moskwa, on which Moscow is situated, and the Volga. A huge system of canals will connect the Soviet metropolis with the Black and the Caspian Seas and will be large enough to permit ships of every size to discharge their cargo before the very doors of Moscow.

Work on the canals has been started a while ago, it was learned, while the earthwork for the future Moscow harbour will commence shortly. Moscow harbour will in fact be two harbours; one, in the heart of the city, for small and more valuable cargo, like eggs, vegetables, milk, etc. being modelled after the Berlin harbour on the Spree, and the second one, to be erected in giant dimensions, after the Hamburg prototype, a small distance away from the city for piece cargo, coal, machinery and so on.

The construction of these harbours necessitates a considerable change of the Moscow traffic system. Streets and waterways within the city have to be enlarged, new brigges and godowns to be built. The authorities in charge of this huge project expect to finish this plan within three years. A number of German architects, engineers and waterway experts have already been engaged to participate in the realisation of this important scheme. —Transocean Kuomin.

LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Probation after death" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 23.

The Golden Text was: "Behold, now is the day of salvation." (II Cor. 6: 2.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. . . . The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. (I Cor. 15: 19-21, 26.)

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If man is never to overcome death, why do the Scriptures say, "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death"? The tenor of the Word shows that we shall obtain the victory over death in proportion as we overcome sin.")P. 427: 17-21.)

THE GERMAN FLEET

THIS YEAR'S NAVAL MANŒUVRES

PROTECTION OF SHIPPING TRAFFIC

Berlin, September 10.—The German Naval Manœuvres began to-day and will conclude on Wednesday, the vessels returning to Wilhelmshaven, where the Commander-in-Chief will criticise the operations.

The basis of the manœuvres is the protection of shipping traffic—represented by a number of chartered mercantile ships—in the North Sea. The area covers the waters south and south-west of Norway, the Skaggerrak, and west of Jutland.

GERMANY'S NAVY TO-DAY

THE POCKET-BATTLESHIPS.

With German disarmament, or rearmament, demands occupying so prominent a place in the public mind, it may be of interest to give the composition of the German Navy at the present time:—

Battleships—Hannover, Schlesien, Schleswig-Holstein, Hessen, Deutschland, Lothringen (building).

Of these six battleships, the first four are pre-Dreadnoughts of 13,200 tons, mounting in each ship four 11in. guns, twelve 6.7in. guns, four 3.4in. guns, four 3.4in. A.A. guns, and four 19.7 in. torpedo tubes. They are heavily armoured, coal burning, and have a speed of 18 knots. At ten knots their "economical speed," they have an endurance of 5,000 miles. These ships, therefore, though old-fashioned, are still powerful fighting ships.

The Deutschland and Lothringen are the now notorious "Pocket Battleships" which, on a tonnage of 10,000, mount six 11in. guns, eight 6in. guns, four 3.4in. guns (A.A.), and six 19.7in. torpedo tubes. By the use of electric welding and very light Diesels, it is claimed that 550 tons have been saved. Their H.P. is 50,000, and their maximum speed 26 knots.

These ships, of which electric welding and Diesels are the chief novelties, do not deserve the eulogies that have been widely bestowed upon them, as their cost is no less than £4,000,000, and they are known to have weaknesses, but they fulfil an internationally useful function by demonstrating what can be done in the way of armament and protection on a small tonnage.

It is interesting to observe the German faithfulness to the light 11in. gun with which, in the late war, they did great execution against ships armed with guns of much heavier calibre.

CRUISER STRENGTH.

Cruisers—Leipzig, Konigsberg, Karlsrühe, Koln (all of 6,000 tons), Emden (5,600 tons), Bremse (1,225 tons,) Berlin (3,650 tons).

Of these six cruisers, the first four mount nine 6in. guns, four 3.4in. A.A. guns, and 16 machine guns and 12 19.7in. torpedo tubes. Their designed h.p. is 65,000, giving them a maximum speed of 32 knots, and an endurance at 10 knots of 10,000 miles.

The Emden mounts eight 5in. guns and four 19.7in. torpedo tubes. These five small cruisers have an armoured belt of 3in.-4in. and once again demonstrate the possibility of mounting a powerful armament and good protection on a greatly reduced tonnage.

The particulars of the Bremse, laid down in 1931, are not available, but it is understood that she is to be used mainly as a gunnery drill ship.

The Berlin is 30 years old, and is likely to disappear shortly from the German Navy List.

Destroyers—12 modern vessels of 34 knots, mounting three 4.1in. guns and six 19.7in. torpedo tubes, as well as 14 old pre-War destroyers and torpedo boats.

All the new German ships have been exceedingly costly, the chief items in the cost being speed and novel methods of construction.

In addition to the foregoing ships Germany has 60 auxiliary vessels, of which 30 are minesweepers and 16 are motor patrol vessels. Her sail training ship, the Niobe, was recently lost.

By the terms of the Versailles Treaty the German Navy is limited as follows:—

Battleships—Six in commission and two in reserve. Age limit 20 years. No ship to be replaced by one of more than 10,000 tons.

Cruisers—Six in commission and two in reserve. Age limit 20 years. New ships not to exceed 6,000 tons or to be armed with a gun heavier than 6in.

Destroyers—22 boats and 11 in reserve. Age limit 15 years. New destroyers not to exceed 800 tons and torpedo boats 200 tons.

Germany has no submarines, and is prohibited from building any.

ARMY TEAMS TO THE FORE

THREE SUCCESSES IN THE FIRST DIVISION

RADIO SCORE THEIR FIRST VICTORY

Army teams did extremely well on Saturday, the Borderers, Lincolns and R.A. all winning in the First Division, and the first two also being successful in the Second Division, but the R.A. seconds went down to the Athletic. In the Third Division, however, while the Lincolns won, R.A.F. lost unexpectedly to Radio Sports Club, who registered their first win in League football, and the R.E. also suffered defeat.

Borderers and Lincolns still head the First Division League tables, while the Athletic lead the Second Division and St. Joseph's the Third Division, though they only take precedure over the Borderers on goal average, both teams having four wins, out of four games, to their credit.

NOTES ON THE GAMES

FIRST DIVISION

BORDERERS v. St. JOSEPH'S.

On the College ground, the Borderers, had to fight hard to beat St. Joseph's by the only goal, scored by Duncan in the first half.

The Saints played an extremely good game and the Borderers were rather lucky in snatching both points. In the first few minutes Leonard struck the cross bar with Johnson well beaten but the Borderers at this period did most of the attacking though Costa at centre half was responsible for breaking up the Borderers attack again and again. Harris and Jones did some good passing, but their finishing was weak. Sabhan and Gosano played well but neither Souza nor Delgado were at their best.

Duncan scored after twenty-five minutes play with a stinging shot that gave the goalie no chance. Saints then put on pressure but half time saw the Borderers leading by one goal.

The Borderers were on the defensive a large part of the second half, and they had some luck, Souza missing several chances and Sabhan hitting the crossbar after a fine effort.

The teams were:

St. Joseph's: Marquis; Lawrence and Gomes; Victor Costa and Fernandez; Delgado, Gosano, Leonard Souza and Sabhan

The Borderers: Johnson; Mullane and Morrison; Morgan, Podmore and Williams; Pallister, Harris, Davis, Jones and Duncan.

LINCOLN'S v. RECREIO.

The Lincolns defeated the Recreio, by three goals to nil, but the score should have been larger.

Though the better team they failed to impress shots, which should have beaten Fernandes hit both post and bar. Commencing their attack from the opening the Lincolns did everything but score. Kirkham and Harding were the best wing pair on the field, and from the former came numerous centres which went a-begging. The Portuguese had only nine men at the opening, but the fine defensive work of Ogley and Fernandes kept the Lincolns out.

Fernandes played a great game and Ogley also saved several certain goals. The Lincolns, however, opened their account with a penalty kick taken by Kirkham for handling.

The Lincolns defence had an easy time and Barker and his colleagues helping the forwards to keep up their persistent attack.

The Lincolns were rewarded when a splendid shot by Baldry left the Recreio goalkeeper standing. Harding soon added a third goal.

The teams were:—

Recreio: — Fernandes; Ogley, Britto; Bernando, Figueiredo, Marques; Gomes, Guterres, Gonsalves, Rocha and Ribeiro.

Lincolns:—Heath; Turner, Ash; Betts, Barber, Cork; Kirkham, Harding, Higgins, Ridley and Baldry.

NAVY v. R.A.

The Navy had bad luck in losing Bland and but for this the result might have been different. Bland twisted his knee rather badly.

From the start the Navy pressed, using kick and rush tactics, but the Gunners defended steadily and combined better.

Just before Bland's withdrawal the R.A., who were attacking, got their first goal Bryant scoring from a pass from Moore. The Navy replied and during a scrimmage in front of the R.A. goal, Sizer equalised. The Navy replied and Bland, trying to force his way through, slipped and had to be carried off. The Gunners increased their lead when Seal took the ball up and centred to Moore, who headed past Kitchin. Robertson on the right and his colleague, Sizer, managed to bring the ball into the Gunners' area for the former to shoot over the bar. The Navy put on a great effort to try and equalise, but Allan stepped in to punt the ball over the stands. Wood and Bryant on the Gunners' right indulged in a bout of neat passing, the latter passing to Walker, who had his shot blocked for a corner. Moore tried a first timer, but Kitchin brought off a splendid save. Towards the end the Gunners put on pressure and Seal was responsible for Bryant's second goal.

The Teams were:—

Artillery:—Comboy, Allan and Taylor, Gough, Pardoe and Rogers, Wood, Bryant, Moore, Walker, and Seal.

Navy:—Kitchin, Gilbert and Harvey, Robinson, Lawrence and Goodrich, Robertson, Usher, Bland, Sizer and McCormack.

Referee:—Mr. Stokes.

H.K.F.C. v. K.F.C.

Those old-time rivals Hong Kong Football Club and Kowloon Football Club met at the Hong Kong Football Club ground before a fair number of spectators. Play was early in the Kowloon domain. White cleared; sending the ball to midfield. The home players were persistent and Dominy scored with an excellent shot.

Play once again centred on Kowloon goal and Howe headed in to score the second goal for Hong Kong.

Soon after the start of the second half Howe had an open field but his shot hit the cross bar. Play was then brought to the home territory where Nelems also missed.

The third goal came when Strange sent in a stinker which one of the Kowloon backs tried to stop, but only managed to tip the ball into his own net.

The teams were:

Club: Rodger; Martin, S. Strange; M. Railton, Skinner, A. Duncan; G. Duncan, Dominy, Howe, E. Strange and Fowler.

Kowloon: Gurevitch; White, Wells; Palmer, McKelvie, Bliss; Phillips, Hill, Nelems, Blake and Bickford.

SECOND DIVISION

CLUB v. EASTERN

The Club second string won by five goals to one on their own ground. The Club opened the scoring through Williams with a well placed shot. The home team did most of the attacking, but weak finishes robbed them of a couple of goals.

After the interval the Club played well and soon took the lead through Williams. The same player completed his "hat trick" by registering the third. Williams scored two more in quick succession.

KOWLOON v. ST. JOSEPH'S

On the College ground the Kowloon juniors did well in beating the Saints second eleven by three goals to one. Kowloon scored first through Webb and the same player added another one before half time. In the change over the Saints kept their opponents on the defensive, good work on the part of Ali and Santos resulted in Gutcerez scoring.

LINCOLNS v. EWO

The Lincolnshire seconds had an easy victory over Ewo of 5 goals to one. The Chinese team put up a pretty good fight at the beginning but the Lincolns wore them down.

Tate opened the score, but Au King Ming equalised. In the second half Barnes scored two more and McGuiness also potted two to give his side a lead of four clear goals.

BORDERERS v. ROYAL NAVY

Royal Navy lost to the Borderers on the Kowloon Football Club ground by the odd goal in three. Play in the first half was keenly contested and there was no scoring in the first half.

In the second half, the Royal Navy opened through Davies, but Hillablyn equalised, and before the

CLUB BEAT KOWLOON R.F.C.

In a well-contested game at Sookunpoo on Saturday the Club defeated Kowloon R.F.C. by sixteen points (two goals and two tries) to five points (one goal).

Peers opened the scoring, the try being converted. This was the only score in the first half, but Griffiths ran over a few minutes after the game restarted, while Moutrie and Lammert added further tries, one of which was converted.

Kowloon's policy in the tight scrums was to keep the ball and rely on foot tactics. Getting the ball back to the threes was attempted with disastrous results in the first half, the Kowloon men being too slow in getting rid of the ball.

The Club threes did better and many of their passing movements brought them near to scoring Lammert was a danger on the wing, but he was well marked and given little opportunity. Easterbrook, the Kowloon full-back played a fine game.

The teams were as follows:—

Club:—S. J. H. Fox; G. P. Lammert, R. H. Griffiths, W. H. B. Rigg, W. E. Peers; M. H. Turner; A. Macintosh; G. C. Moutrie, F. R. Burch, J. H. Bradford, W. Kerr, J. C. Miller, A. P. Hall Thompson, La Roche and J. H. McElney.

Kowloon:—C. B. Easterbrook; J. J. Ferguson, Lt. Stevenson, Lt. Keith-Murray, Lt. McPherson; L. Peart; A. W. Torrible; J. E. H. Cogan, Lt. Prior, Lt. Graham, S. MacNider, J. E. Wilson, Lt. Neillson, R. Stilliard and S. H. Garrod.

whistle went Morris sent in the winning goal for the soldiers.

CHINESE ATHLETIC v. ROYAL ARTILLERY.

Chinese Athletic beat the Gunners at Sookunpoo by three clear goals. The Artillery defence line played a sterling game, but their forwards were erratic.

SOUTH CHINA v. TSUNG TSING.

South China second was too strong for the Tsung Tsing eleven whom they defeated by five goals to two at Caroline Hill.

South China scored three goals in the first half, and added two more in the second. Tsung Tsing scored two in this half.

THIRD DIVISION

RADIO v. AIR FORCE.

Radio did well in beating the Air Force this being their first victory since they started playing league soccer. Elms opened the scoring for them after 15 minutes' play and added another good goal before the interval. For the Air Force Harvey on the left was prominent.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. TAIKOO CHINESE.

The Taikoo Chinese were no match for the Saints and suffered a heavy defeat by 11 goals to one. The score at half time was three to one in favour of the Saints. The second half saw the Saints in splendid combination. The Saints' third string have played four matches, and won all, 25 goals for and 3 against.

BORDERERS v. UNIVERSITY.

The soldiers took their chances and won by six goals to one. Marshall scored in the early stages of the game to give them the lead. The same player added another one. Nelson scored the third goal.

S.C.A.A. v. RECREIO.

On their own ground at King's Park the Recreio's third team lost to South China by five goals to nil. The home team were lacking three good men in Olivera, Marques and Campos, with the result that their back line were not strong enough to clear the attacks of the Chinese forwards.

CHINA ATHLETIC v. ROYAL ENGINEERS.

The Chinese Athletics won by three goals to nil against the Royal Engineers. The game was scrappy.

GERMAN FOREIGN TRADE

DECREASE IN SEPTEMBER.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—German foreign trade returns for September show a further decrease of the export surplus which, however, is solely due to the increase in imports by 28,700,000 Marks to 360,200,00 Marks, thus showing an export surplus of 84,000,000 Marks as compared with 97,000,000 Marks for August 1932.

The increase in imports largely consists of greater purchases of raw materials, which is construed as an unmistakable sympton of the slowly beginning economic improvement.

The export surplus for the first nine months of the current year totals 847,000,000 Marks, while during the same period of the preceding year it amounted to 1,965,000,000 Marks. German exports therefore decreased in the current year as compared with 1931 by 41 per cent. in value of the goods and by 30 per cent. in their volume.

Meanwhile an improvement in the export situation is expected to set in as soon as the negotiations have been concluded which were necessitated by the government's introduction of import restrictions aiming at a protection of domestic farm products and the resulting counter-measures instituted by some countries hitherto exporting such products to Germany and in exchange buying German industrial products.

MESSRS. G. A. HARRIMAN'S REPORT

OCTOBER SETTLEMENT APPROACHING

With the approach of the October Settlement a certain amount of liquidation has been in evidence during the week under review and consequently rates in some sections eased slightly and generally speaking trading was on a rather narrow range as is often the case when nearing a Settlement. Cements after being firmer closed again around $14.15. Hotels were done in quantity between $11.95 and $12.30. Providents (old) changed hands at $4.90 to $5.000 and Lights at $17.30 to $17.50. Realties enjoyed a brisk market between $9.60/9.90. Ewos were wanted at $14.60. In the Investment section Trams were done at $21.90/22, Electrics closed in strong demand at $76¾, and Telephones were wanted at $28.00. Lands held well at $76½ after business done at $76¾. In the sterling section Banks were better at $1,675, but Unions were practically unchanged at $505.00. Activities were more or less confined to Settlement accounts towards the close, and it will not therefore be possible to judge the trend of the market until about the middle of next week. We have a feeling however that perhaps the present easiness may prove to be only temporary.

Banks.—Hong Kong Banks improved a little and changed hands at $1,675.00. Bank of East Asias continued in request at $109.00.

Insurances.—Unions were done at $505/10. China Under-writers were sought for at $2.95, sellers asking $3.00.

Shipping.—Douglases were in demand at $24½. Union Waterboats remained unchanged with buyers at $20¾.

Docks, Wharves and Godowns.—Wharves remained in demand at $145½. Providents (old) had buyers at $4.80.

Hotels and Real Estate.—Hotels (old) opened very steady, but eased off to $11.05 at the close, sales having been effected at $11.95/12.00 for the Settlement. Hong Kong Lands changed hands at $76., and continued in demand. Hong Kong Realtys were transacted at $9.90, closing slightly easier with sellers at $9.85.

Cotton Mills.—Ewos remained very firm and were dealt in at Tls. 14.60/14.90.

Public Utilities.—Trams changed hands at $21.90/22., and more shares could be placed at $21.85. Star Ferries were enquired for at $91½. China Lights (old) were done at $17.30/17.50 closing easier at the former rate. Electrics after having been put through at $76/76½ were wanted at $76¾ towards the close. Telephones (new) firmed up to a buying rate of $27.80.

Miscellaneous.—Cements (comb.) were negotiated at $14.15/14.75. Ropes were quiet at $12½. Dairy Farms continued in demand at $27½ without attracting any sellers. Constructions (old) were sought for at $6.40 and the new shares could fetch buyers at $1.30. Sinceres were asked for at $15.60.

Forward Settlement Days:—October 25, November 29 and December 20.

"UNCLE SAM'S" LITTLE BILL

G$124 MILLIONS FROM EUROPE

Washington, Oct. 16.—European debts due the United States on December 15, the first major payments since the expiration of the Hoover moratorium, amount to $124,934,421.48, according to the latest compilation of the treasury.

Great Britain is the largest debtor with an installment due of $95,550,000. France is second with a debt of $19,261,432 and Poland third with a debt of $4,427,980. Next in order are Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Esthonia, Finland, Latvia Lithuania and Hungary.

By far the greatest portion of the total amount is payment of interest instead of principal. For this reason the machinery in the various debt agreements providing for postponement of payments for two or more years is not useful to many of the debtors because provision was made in the original debt funding agreements only for postponement of payments on account of principal.

The Case of Great Britain.

An example is the case of Great Britain, which on December 15 will owe $65,550,000 in interest and only $30,000,000 in principal. The total French payment this time is on account of interest and the same is true for Italy, which owes $1,245,437, Belgium, which owes $2,125,000 and Lithuania which owes $92,386.01.

An additional complication to use of the regular machinery for postponement in the original agreements lies in the requirement for 90 day notice if postponement is intended. This would require the debtor nations to inform the United States on September 15 that they intended to delay payments due December 15. Escape from this requirement is possible, however, by securing written waiver of notice requirement from the secretary of treasury. This occurred last year in the case of German payments on account of the Mixed Claims Commission awards. It also occurred this year in the case of a samll payment of $130,000 due by Greece on July 1, the day after the moratorium expired.

To Help Payment.

Thus a nation such as Czechoslovakia, whose December payment is entirely on account of principal, could wait until a few days before the obligations mature and then by proper negotiations with the secretary of the treasury secure waiver of the 90 day notice requirement and announce its intention of using the postponement machinery.

SCOTCH WHISKY

A RE-ASSURANCE AS TO QUANTITY AND QUALITY.

Messrs. Jardine, Matheson, sole agents in China for White Horse Whisky inform us that.

"Considerable discussion has been aroused by the statement that a large number of distilleries in Scotland do not intend to open this season, owing to the existing large stocks in bond an the gradual decline consumption, due to overtaxation. The consumer of Scotch whisky however need feel no nervousness about the situation. He is now getting and will continue to get even finer whisky than in prewar days. Unlike so many other products, of which there has been over-production, the stocks of whisky now in bond are getting better and better, as they age. Many of the Highland malt whiskies largely used in the leading proprietary blends are now equivalent to fine liqueurs. Scotch whisky as shipped to China is now older and better than ever, and in 1933 will be older and better still."

"White Horse Whisky," they inform us, "is now older and better than ever, and in 1932 and the following years, will be older and better still."

WATER POLO

Y.M.C.A. BEAT CHINESE BATHING CLUB

The European Y.M.C.A., in a friendly water polo match with the Chinese Bathing Club yesterday, accounted for the latter by two goals to nil.

For the winners Schrender, who scored both goals in the second half, was the outstanding player, while Railton at half back also played a sound game.

The Chinese team, held the visitors for the first half, but stamina told in the end and they had to concede two goals in the last few minutes of the game.

LORD HAREWOOD ON SWEEP "BRIBES"

LEGALISED SWEEPS OPPOSED BY JOCKEY CLUB

VIEWS ON THE TOTE AND DOG RACES

Lord harewood, senior steward of the Jockey Club, described to the Royal Commission on Lotteries and Betting what he considered the evils of large sweepstakes on the results of races. He emphasised the opportunities given for bribery.

Incidentally he mentioned that he had never had a ticket in the Irish sweepstake.

"The Jocked Club," said Lord Harewood, "does not ask for, nor even support, the legalisation of sweepstakes. So far as the interests of racing are concerned, the Jockey Club opposes it."

Illustrating the "opportunities for fraud offered by sweepstakes," Lord Harewood gave these instances:—

"A man who has £30,000, or more, to play with can offer large bribes. Stable boys, jockeys, and trainers might be tempted to accept a bribe to secure the defeat of a horse and are of course in a position to make certain of its defeat.

"Even an owner placed in the same temptation can prevent his horse from winning—if by no other means, by scratching him.

Shares Temptation.

"If some dishonest person were able to buy a share in every horse except one, the temptation to secure the defeat of that horse would be overwhelming.

"The position would be more tolerable if the results of the draw in these sweepstakes were not known until after the race. The promoters of the Irish sweepstakes have been approached with a view to arranging the draw for the evening before the race, but have not seen their way to comply with this request.

"If they had done so, the opportunities for bribery would have been greatly reduced.

"I could, if required, name an instance of a horse running in a race for no reason except the profit from a sweepstake, and an instance where negotiations for bribery were in progress."

Lord Harewood said it was possible for the clientele of the Irish sweepstake to include a number of people who were not particularly honest. The ticket-holders could be organised by some body of people out to make money, and dishonesty could then become common.

Stronger Tote Control.

He agreed that if sweepstakes were legalised and under some sort of Government control, there would be less danger to sporting interests. He thought the totalisator should be under some stronger control or in the hands of some really responsible body.

He knew of no reason why the Irish should give bigger sweepstake prizes than the British would if they were legalised in this country.

Brig-General the Hon. F. C. Stanley, giving evidence on behalf of the National Hunt Committee, referred to the inducement to owners to run horses in races in which they stood on chance because sweepstakes were being held with prizes given for runners.

The Tendency of swelling the field referred particularly to the Grand National, in which horses had no pretension to win had much more opportunity of interfering with the bona-fide triers than in any other race.

Welshers Defeated.

General Stanley said the advantage of the tote at hunt meetings and point-to-points was most marked. In the old days these meetings were the happy hunting-ground of welshers and all sorts of black guards. The simple country people were an easy prey for them. now they could bet with safety on the tote.

"We should be overjoyed," said General Stanley, "if we heard recommendations were made to make ready-money betting off the course legal. I view with much alarm the opening of uncontrolled totalisators and pools in different parts of the country."

Lord Askwith, for the National Greyhound Racing Society of Great Britain, supported by the National Greyhound Racing Club, submitted a memorandum declaring that greyhound racing had secured a settled place in the life of the people.

It had provided a means of open air entertainment for great numbers of people who otherwise would have spent their evenings in some manner or place physically less healthy.

An Antidote.

It had provided a means of interest or distraction as an antidote to discontentment of mind and social unrest, it had a definite family appeal, being patronised by husband and wife; it provided a far healthier outlet for the betting instinct than there ever existed before.

Referring to totallisators on licensed courses and the control of them, the memorandum declared that the system was both honest and efficient. There was a gross turnover of more than £4,000,000 on totalisators on licensed courses for the first nine months of this year.

In the badly conducted totalisators on unlicensed tracks the amount taken from the pools was decided entirely by the manage ment, and the public was exposed to the grave danger of an unscrupulous management, and, even where the management was honest, to the dager of dishonest employees.

"We are of the opinion," said the memorandum, "that it is of the greatest importance, from a social point of view, that a check should be imposed at the earliest possible moment on the growth of these racecourses."

The Clubs Society held the view that betting should be confined to totalisators on the courses. A separate body should be set up by legislative enactment for the control of all betting operations on greyhound racecourses.

HOCKEY

H.K.L.H.C. v. CULB DE RECREIO

An interesting game was witnessed on Saturday afternoon on the Military ground at Sookunpoo, when the Hong Kong Ladies Kockey Club met the Club de Recreio, the result being a draw of one goal each. The teams were evenly match both scoing one goal in the first half of the game, the goal for the Hong Kong Ladies Kockey Club being shot by Miss J. Dalziel. During the second half the Club de Recrieo almost gained three goals but Mrs. E. Westlake held her own at the goal month. Both teams put up a great struggle and the game poved a very good one.

The following team represented the Hong Kong Ladies:—E. Westlake, M. King, I. Butler, N. Cooper, D. Robertson, H. Gerraed, A. Mc Elney, J. B. Dalziel, E. R. Bell, M. Raltey and R. King

Radio v. H.M.S. Wishart.

Radio Club easily bent H.M.S. Wishart in the Mamak Hockey Tournament at Caroline Hill on Saturday afternoon. A feature of the game was the fine stickwork of Gunbachan Singh, the Radio Sports Club centre forward, who shot five goals during the afternoon, including a "hat trick."

Half time found the Radio men leading by three goals, Awtwar Singh claiming two and G. Singh one. The sailors were outplayed in almost every department of the game. In the second half, G. Singh added four more and Awtwar Singh another.

Commander Bannister and Lieut. Fisher were prominent in the forward line for H.M.S. Wishart but did not receive much support from the half-backs.

Police Beat Indian's 3 Goals to 1.

The Mamak Shield match between the Police and the Kowloon Indians on the Marina ground yesterday resulted in a win for the Police team by 3 goals to 1. The game was very patchy, and had the Police taken advantage of their scoring opportunities, a much bigger margin in the scores would have been registered.

The goal hitters for the Police were Pile, K. Singh, and Blackburn, while A. Khan scored the only goal for the Indians.

St. Andrew's Club v. Jats.

St. Andrew's Hockey Club played Headquarter Wing, of the Jat Regiment, on the Marina ground, the game ending in a draw of three goals all. St. Andrew's led by one nil at half time but failed to keep their lead. Goal-scorers were A. E. Guest and E. F. Fincher (2) for St. Andrews and Rama Khan (2) and Jalil for the Jats.

R.A.M.C. v. Y.M.C.A. Ladies.

Against Y.M.C.A. Ladies at King's Park, the R.A.M.C. won by four goals to one. The men were much too good for the ladies, but they did not have everything their own way.

Y.M.C.A. v. German Club.

At King's Park, the Y.M.C.A. defeated the German Club by six goals to one.

FRIENDLY MATCH

MALAYAN CHAMPIONSHIP WON and British Record Broken with help of PHOSFERINE

CHAMPION OOI LEONG TEIK writes:—

"IT is with the greatest pleasure that I write to testify to the benefits I have received by taking Phosferine during my training for the 1931 Malayan Weight-Lifting Championships.

As I had to reduce some seven or eight pounds off my normal bodyweight in order to enable me to compete in the 9-stone class, I had to go into very strenuous training, and with the help of Phosferine, I not only won the championship of that class, but also the Individual Championship, and, in addition I broke a British Record.

I therefore have no hesitation in recommending Phosferine to any physical culturist or athlete, whether he be in ordinary training or preparing for a competition, as it

GIVES ENERGY and ENDURANCE and RENEWS BROKEN-DOWN TISSUE."

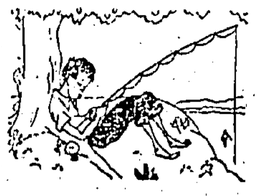
THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

BY

UNCLE JACK



THE PURPLE ONION

When Jimmy was staying at his uncle's in the country the gardener gave him a purple onion, "guaranteed to make you invisible," he said, "for an hour at a time, so long as you take no more than one small bite."

This was very exciting. No sooner had Jimmy taken one small bite of the onion than he became completely invisible, and for a whole hour he ran in and out of the house, mystifying every one and playing all sorts of tricks.

Next day he had to go back to school. Outside the classroom he told his friends of the magic onion, and bid them watch what fun he was going to have, annoying Mr. Jenks, his form master. "I shall take several bites of the onion," he said (forgetting the gardener's advice), "because it wouldn't do at all if I suddenly became visible at the end of an hour, just as I was rapping him on the knuckles, perhaps, with his own ruler."

The boys had never laughed so much as they laughed that morning, though they had to hide their giggles in their desks. Mr. Jenks grew more and more furious, as he saw the chalk writing upon the blackboard, apparently of its own accord: "Old Jenks is an ass," and saw the chairs knocked over by an invisible hand, and the window opened and shut, and the papers swept off his desk. Two hours passed safely and joyfully for Jimmy.

Then, growing bolder, he crept up behind the master, meaning to tweak the spectacles off his nose, when all at once Mr. Jenks exclaimed: "What a disgusting smell of onions!" and, flinging his hand behind, caught hold of Jimmy's coat. In vain he struggled in an iron grip. "Ah, ha, my lad," cried Mr. Jenks, "I can't see you, but I can make a pretty good guess at the place where it will hurt most to cane you;" and cane him he did, till Jimmy roared for mercy.

"If only," said Jimmy sadly to his friends, as he limped home after school—"if only I had taken just one small bite, he wouldn't have smelt the onion."

His friends agreed.

THE NEW BABY

Oh, isn't it a bother that they went and found a sister.
When that wasn't what I wanted, at all!
For what good is a sister,
If you thought you'd like a brother
(And besides, I think she's far too small).
I s'pose we can't play engines,
Nor adventures on an Island,
Nor make up tales about a pirates' den.
But p'raps when she is older
They'll decide to get a brother.
So I guess I'll have to wait till then!

Very Fresh.

"What is the food like here?" asked the new boarder.

"Well, we have chicken every morning for breakfast," replied an old stager.

"Chicken every morning!" The new boarder beamed. "How is it served?"

"In the shell!" grunted the experienced one.

ASK YOU FRIEND

There was a donkey, and he was very hungry, and he was in a field with a high fence all round it. He smelt a carrot the other side of the fence, but he could not climb over, or break through, or crawl underneath. What do you think he did?

Your friend will say: "I give it up."

Then you say: "So did the other donkey."

Aha!

First Boy: "Your father must be stingy—a shoemaker, and making you wear those old boots!"

Second Boy: "He's nothin' to what your father is—a dentist, and your baby only got one tooth."

HOW TO CUT SOAP

There is an art in doing everything, even to the seemingly simple action of cutting a bar of soap into cubes, as a rule the soap cutter takes up his knife and rashly plunges it into the pasty mass, with the result that it emerges in a sticky and unpleasant condition, necessitating much washing before it can be used for other cutting purposes. A much cleaner way to perform the feat of cutting soap is to lay a sheet of paper on top of the bar and proceed to cut through the paper. Peculiarly enough, the knife does not cut the paper through, but takes it down through the soap, and in consequence the blade comes out perfectly clean.

FORTUNE TELLING

Ask your friend to hold an even number of coins in one hand and an odd number in the other. Tell him to multiply mentally the number in the right hand by seven and the number in the left by six then add the two answers, and tell you the result.

If the result is an odd number, the odd number is in his right hand, and if the result is even the even number is in his right hand.

Not Sure.

Electrician (puzzled, to assistant):

"Hi! Put your hand on one of those wires!"

Assistant: "Right."

"Feel anything?"

"No"

"Good! I wasn't sure which was which. Don't touch the other, or or you'll be electrocuted."

What Else?

"What struck you most on your travels?"

"Other peoples umbrellas."

Mother had been very busy, and had forgotten to shake the bottle before giving Tommy his medicine. "There, Tommy, what a nuisance. I forgot to shake the bottle."

"Oh, never mind, mummy, I'll just turn a few somersaults instead."

INDIAN R.C. BEAT K.C.C. IN JUNIOR LEAGUE

F.S.W. SMITH'S GREAT EFFORT

HAMILTON SCORES 84 FOR ARMY

The only League match to take place on Saturday was the Junior League game between the Indian R.C. and the Kowloon C.C. The Indians, who suffered defeat at the hands of the Police last week displayed better form on Saturday and won by 60 runs.

Smith, captain of the K.C.C., made a splendid effort to pull the game round for his side by making almost half the runs and capturing 4 cheap wickets, but received no assistance from his teammates.

Several friendly matches were played, details of which appear below.

LEAGUE II.

INDIANS v. K.C.C.

The Kowloon C.C. failed badly against the strong Indian R.C. at Sookunpoo on Saturday. F. S. Smith virtually carried his side in making 40 runs out of a total of 96 and taking 4 wickets for 42 runs. No other player on the K.C.C. side reached double figures against the bowling of Rumjahn, Abbas, and F. M. el Arculli who shared wickets.

The Indians batted first and compiled 156, thanks to a vigorous innings of 56 by F. M. el Arculli, who together with A. S. Suffiad who contributed 35, brought the score from eight runs for three wickets to 71 before they were separated. Arculli continued to hit out to good effect and was eventually dismissed for 56.

Despite Smith's great effort for the visitors, the K.C.C. were all out for 96 runs, 25 of which were "extras."

HOSPITAL SUNDAY AT THE CATHEDRAL

DEAN'S TRIBUTE TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

PROGRESS THAT HAS BEEN ENTIRELY FOR GOOD

Yesterday was observed as Hospital Sunday at St. John's Cathedral. Special lessons were read by Prof. L. T. Ride, M.A., Ch.B., M.B., Dean of the Medical Faculty of the Hong Kong University, and by Dr. G. A. C. Herklots, Ph.D., M.Sc., F.L.S., and special prayers for all connected with the Medical and Nursing Professions were used.

Poems by Alfred Tennyson and Charles Kingsley were sung as Hymns.

H.E. the Officer Administering the Government and Mrs. Southorn were present. Also many doctors and nurses. The Service was taken by the Dean, the Very Rev. A. A. Swann, who was also the preacher.

THE SERMON.

The text was taken from Ecclus. XXXVIII. 1. Honour a physician with the honour due unto him, for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord hath created him.

In the course of his address Dean Swann said:—In July this year a great service was held in Worcester Cathedral to celebrate the Centenary of the British Medical Association which was founded in the city of Worcester by Charles Hastings. Lord Dawson of Penn, the President of the Association, unveiled a window in memory of the Founder, and the whole service was arranged as a thanksgiving as one part of the form of service stated—to Almighty God "for a hundred years of beneficient activity guided by His wisdom and enabled by His power."

Gratitude for divine wisdom and power in the art of healing was the key-note of that occasion. It is the key-note also of our Hospital Sunday in this Cathedral.

Of recent years we have made a practice of setting aside a day on which to concentrate our mind upon the work of healing and preventing disease, and we do this in the House of God because we have no doubt that God knows and cares about every part of it, and that His merciful hand is at work in it all.

Needs of Body and Spirit.

The needs of the body are as yet more easily recognised than those of the spirit. It is perhaps one of the most regrettable facts of modern life that whereas there is general agreement about the needs of the body there is a great deal of difference of opinion about spiritual needs. Men of widely differing views or no views at all about the spirit will join in their concern for physical well-being. We are convinced, and we have the authority of the Master, Jesus Christ, and of all saintly people with us in this, that spiritual well-being is of far greater importance in human life than physical; and yet we have the same authority for setting a value on physical soundness which is second only to spiritual health.

We are only too apt to take for granted the "beneficent activity" of the medical and nursing professions. We do well to remember that doctors and nurses are always dealing with abnormal people. It is true that in some good souls sickness brings out a self which is better than the normal, but most of us, I fear, fall short of that. Doctors and nurses deal with us when we are nervy, impatient, exacting. We make heavy demands on their time, their patience and their energy, but often we repay them with little gratitude.

To-day, therefore, we take this opportunity of apologizing for our abnormalities, and of expressing our better feelings of gratefulness for the services of those who have helped us in sickness.

Normal and Miraculous.

Earlier generations than our own used to see the hand of God only in the miraculous, only in what man could not understand or explain; now we have learnt that we must not limit God's activity to the incomprehensible. To do this would be to push God further and further out of His universe, since science is daily advancing in the knowledge of causation. To-day we realise that we must look for God in all things good. Wherever there is beneficent activity, there is God at work. And this is true whether the activity is what we call "explainable" or not.

Now this line of thought must lead us to regard those engaged in preserving or restoring health as co-workers with God. There are some, however, who believe it to be right to dispense altogether with the help of medicine and surgery and to trust, in sickness, to faith in God alone. The Catholic Church (and by that I do not mean only the Roman Catholic Church) believe this to be a quite misguided outlook. God has given us material benefits in plenty, richly to enjoy and to use, and we regard it as just as foolish to dispense with drugs in sickness as with food in health.

Christian Science.

I think it true that those who term themselves Christian Scientists have done humanity no small service in emphasising the power of faith; it is a truth which has often been lost sight of. But by itself it is only a part of the full truth of God's workings. The Good Samaritan who cares for the wounded traveller, sterilising his wounds with wine and binding them up, has the approval and the sanction of God as much as the disciple who, by arousing the cripple's faith in Christ, enables him to leap up and walk.

This, of course, applies also to every branch of the healing art. Research workers, bacteriologists, chemists, radiologists, nurses, all are as much co-workers with God as physicians and surgeons. They are all God's agents for the benefit of mankind.

True Progress.

During the past century science has advanced amazingly. We are living to-day in an altogether different world from out great-grand fathers. In some respects it is to be feared that scientific advance has been too rapid for us, our inventions have got out of hand and are turning upon us to do us harm. Character has not advanced proportionately. So that we are not at present able to control and to use for the benefit of mankind all our recent knowledge. Too much of it is still used in such a way as to be a menace.

But the science of medicine and surgery is a splendid exception. Here we see indeed a hundred years of purely beneficent activity, and in it we note with gratitude the guidance of God's wisdom and the enabling of His power.

TRIPS TO SOUTH SEAS

NORDDEUTSCHER-LLOYD ENTERPRISE

Among to-morrow's arrivals from Europe will be the s.s. Friderun, which vessel is going to join the popular s.s. Bremerhaven on the Hong Kong-New Guinea service of the Norddeutscher Lloyd, Bremen.

The Friderun will leave here on or about 5th November, 1932 on her maiden voyage to Madang, Rabaul, Kavieng and twelve other ports in the Mandated Territory of New Guinea, and together with the s.s. Bremerhaven will maintain a regular monthly freight and passenger service from Hong Kong to New Guinea ports. The s.s. Bremerhaven includes the Solomon Islands in her itinerary and calls at about 15 other ports that are not touched at by s.s. Friderun. A round-trip on either one of these vessels takes about 50 days.

This service of the N.D.L offers at very moderate rates excellent facilities for round-trip passengers interested in a visit to South Sea Islands. s.s. Friderun has good accommodation for 20 cabin passengers and to add to their comfort and convenience she is equipped with 2 bathrooms, 3 shower baths and a swimming pool on deck. She is furthermore equipped to carry. 40 Asiatic passengers in cabins situated on the main-deck. Needless to say, she can also carry deck-passengers.

Particulars of s.s. Friderun are as follows: Built in 1922 by Messrs. Frerichs in Einswarden with a gross registered tonnage of 2,327 tons and nett registered tonnage of 1,350 tons, her D.W. capacity is 3,900 tons. Length 312'. Her engines of 1,200 I.H.P. were reinstalled in 1928, enabling her to maintain an average speed of approx. 10 knots per hour.

The Managing-Agents for the Hong Kong/New Guinea Service of the N.D.L. are Messrs Melchers & Co., Queen's Building.

SWATOW NOTES

BUSINESS TAX CONTROVERSY

ENFORCEMENT POSTPONED

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SWATOW, Oct. 17.

The question of the new Business Tax, affecting the vital interests of the whole Chinese commercial body, has been and is still occupying the attention of those concerned.

This tax should have been in force from October 1, but in deference to the demands advanced by the Associated Labour Unions, the Tax Bureau put it off several times. In no manner, however, could the authorities be induced to moderate the tax, and the efforts on the part of the Chamber of Commerce have proved futile.

Four representatives of the Chamber of Commerce convened a meeting regarding the matter, and it was held on October 2 in the premises of the Tax Bureau. At this conference four points were brought up for discussion and consultation with the Director: (1) Hardships in connection with the registration of the respective trades were lengthily explained. (2) The Bureau was requested to allocate the tax in proportion to the capital and nature of the trade, and, (3) that the tax for the different branches of trade be reduced to a minimum. The fourth and the last point was the most important of all—that the tax be levied vis-a-vis the same arrangements in regard to the tax in Canton, the merchants paying only 50 per cent. of the original basis of the tax.

In the course of the meeting the Tax Director intimated that points 1 and 2 would be reconsidered if the views were set forth again in a letter from the Chamber to the Treasury Department. As to the remaining ones he undertook to try to prevail upon the Tax Department but that he could not guarantee any measure of success.

That the Director's sympathy was with the Chamber was evident by the fact that the tax was not put into operation at once. He had insisted that meantime the merchants and traders should carry on with the registration first pending a definite settlement, an arrangement none too pleasant because it would be binding on the merchants.

All registrations must go through the Chamber of Commerce, and each registration consisting of a cover and a leaf only, is to cost $3.

SELECTED XI. v. ROYAL NAVY

An exciting game was witnessed on the Club ground Happy Valley yesterday afternoon, when an Interport Trial team played the Royal Navy. The result, which was not altogether unexpected, was 5 goals to two against the Navy. In the first half the Trial team opened aggressively and goals were registered by Leonard and Gosano; but despite the odds Davies scored for the Navy before the half time whistle.

The second half found the Interporters again attacking, but distinguished work was shown by Leach and his two backs. Tong Kwan, the civilian outside right, was taken off the field with a twisted angle, but later returned. The Interporters had another goal to their credit, when J. Duncan (outside right) scored with a kick that sent the ball into the corner of the net.

The Navy made repeated attempts to score but Strange and Mullane were too good for them; and a little later Howe got away with the ball and a faultless forward line took the ball up the field and Howe scored. Scarcely had they centred then Howe got away and scored again. The last goal of the match was for the Navy and due to McCormack who having defeated Strange, got in a long shot which left Rodgers guessing.

Strange, the Captain of the Interporters, had to be carried off the field shortly before the finish, he had fallen and received a severe kick below the heart.

The teams were as follows:—

Interport Trial Team.—Rodger (Club); Mullane (S.W.B.), Strange (Capt.) (Club); Tong Kwan (S.C.A.A.), Barker (Lincolns), A. Duncan (Club); Chan Shui Hong, Gosano (St. Jos.), Howe (Club), D. Leonard (St. Jos.), J. Duncan (S.W.B.).

Royal Navy.—Leach, Gilbert, Hall; Robinson, Lawrence, Goodrich; Monge, Packer, Davies, Sayers, McCormack.

OTTAWA AND THE WORLD PRICE LEVEL

THE work accomplished at Ottawa was not confined solely to the conclusion of trading Agreements, but covered a number of other very important matters. During recent years, few subjects have attracted more attention than the question of price movements and at the present time there is little divergence of authoritative opinion as to the outstanding part which the severe fall in the value of commodities has played in creating the World-wide financial and trading depression and of the necessity of raising quotations considerably above their existing level. A large measure of relief would certainly be afforded if the downward tendency were definitely arrested, but stability at the present low figures would still leave many serious problems which could only effectively be solved by higher prices. The heavy fall during the past three years has completely disturbed the basis of long-term contracts and although, in many cases, creditors have benefited, in others the increase in the commodity burden of debt contracted at higher prices has so seriously affected borrowers that they have been unable to meet their commitments.

The raising of the price level was the principal subject dealt with in the Report of the Committee at the Ottawa Conference which considered monetary and financial questions and their recommendations were based on a clear recognition of the realities of the situation. The Committee have declined to support the view put forward in many quarters that an upward movement in the price level can be obtained solely by monetary influences and have pointed out that the evil must be attacked by Government and individual action in all its causes which they consider are political, economic, financial and monetary. This reading of the situation is supported by the majority of the Gold Delegation of the Financial Committee of the League of Nations which stated, in their recent Report, that "we do not look . . . to monetary policy alone to adjust the price level, which is influenced by many factors of a non-monetary character."

The Governments represented at Ottawa, whilst fully appreciating that the problem is largely an international one and expressing their desire to co-operate with other Nations in any practicable measures for raising wholesale prices, considered what action the various members of the British Commonwealth could take towards furthering the desired object. In view of the outstanding position of the United Kingdom as the financial centre of the World, great importance was attached to the statement of policy presented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer on behalf of the British Government. This statement pointed out that although a rise in prices cannot be effected by monetary action alone, an ample supply of short-term money at low rates may have a valuable influence. The Delegates, in recommending all the other countries of the Commonwealth to mould their action as far as possible along these lines, emphasised the fact that easy monetary conditions should be achieved, not by the inflationary creation of additional means of payment to finance public expenditure, but by an orderly policy, safeguarded by such steps as will restrain and circumscribe the scope of violent speculative movements in commodities or securities. The Delegates also recognised the great importance of traders of maintaining stability of exchange rates over as wide an area as possible. Pending the restoration of a satisfactory international monetary standard, which must be the ultimate aim of monetary policy, the possibility was considered of achieving valuable results, firstly by creating an area of stability among countries regulating their currencies in relation to sterling and secondly by avoiding wide day-to-day fluctuations between sterling and gold.

It is not always sufficiently appreciated that even if it were possible to secure an all round rise in quotations solely by monetary action, there would still remain those other factors which have been mainly responsible for bringing international trade to its present unsatisfactory position and until they are removed, the World will continue to be denied the full benefit of the progress it is entitled to expect as a result of the advances of science and invention during the post-war years. The point is often overlooked that most attempts to restrict trade and divert it into unnatural channels eventually tend to depress the general level of prices and to lower the standard of living. Since the War the detrimental effect of the extreme protectionist policies pursued by many countries has become increasingly apparent and, although the evil has been widely admitted, little real progress has been made towards greater freedom of international trade. Constantly changing regulations designed to restrict imports are even more detrimental to business than a high, but stable, tariff, as traders are unable to assess the risks involved in entering into commitments, and this is particularly the case when there is any doubt regarding the ability to obtain effective payment for the goods exported. One of the greatest difficulties of the immediate future will be to secure the removal of the network of exchange restrictions which many countries now enforce in order to maintain the value of their currencies. For certain countries the abandonment of these regulations may not be immediately practicable, although it must not be overlooked that only through international trade can external obligations be liquidated and consequently steps should be taken at the earliest possible moment to remove the worst features of the system.

The foregoing list of causes which have led to the catastrophic fall in prices during the past three years is sufficient to indicate the complexity of the problem of producing a definite reversal of the movement, which will be one of the principal subjects for consideration at the forthcoming World Economic Conference. If success at that Conference is to be secured there must be an adequate realisation by all the principal countries of the numerous and diverse forces which have been at work and a readiness on the part of all concerned to face the facts and to take the necessary steps for the restoration of the position. The idea that there is a simple solution of the difficulty through monetary action alone is entirely fallacious and only serves to obscure the true nature of the problem.

WEDDING

HYNDMAN—CHANATONG.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday at Saint Margarite Church, Happy Valley, between Miss Marie Louise Hyndman and Mr. Thomas Dennis Chanatong. The wedding service was taken by the Rev. Father Page.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white crepe satin. She was attended by two bridesmaids, the Misses Stella and Vera Hyndman, Stella in pink lace, and Vera in white lace.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. H. A. Hyndman, and Mr. F. X. Soares, uncle, acted as "best man."

The bride's mother's dress was of black georgette with orange flowers.

After the wedding many of their friends were assembled at the Cecil Hotel, where the reception took place.

The newly-married couple will spend their honeymoon at Shanghai.

Sure to Succeed.

In a recent copy of the Daily Mail paper, appeared a picture of Peter Lecky, a lad aged ten, who in a golf match holed out in one with a drive of 162 yards. Master Lecky, who used a brassie for this splendid shot, was playing on the well-known L'Ancresse Links in Guernsey, C. I., which is his home. This clever young exponent of the Royal and Ancient Game is a nephew of Lt.-Col. Lecky who at present commands the 3/9 Jat Regiment at Kowloon.

Home of 100 Races.

More than 100 different races are to be found in New Guinea, declared Mr. E. W. P. Chinney, Australian government anthropologist for the territory, in a recent address before the Advancement of Science Congress in Sydney.

Probably many more are not known, he said, for part of the territory has not yet been explored. Natives numbered so far total about 400,000. Mr. Chinney advocates teaching the natives trades and agriculture.

Lobsters Fly!

Buenos Aires gourmets are again able to get their lobsters daily from Robinson Crusoe's island. The huge, clawless, delicious shellfish are caught on the shore of a rock in the Pacific 375 miles off Chile. They have always gone to Valparaiso by boat and over the transandine railway to the Argentine capital. Suspension of the railway nearly brought tragedy to the Buenos Aires bon vivant. But airplanes saved the day. They now climb 20,000 feet over the Andes with the live lobsters, which bring $2 a pound. When was the real romance of Robinson Crusoe's island—in his day or in ours?

The Steel Helmet?

Last month—nearly 14 years after the Armistice—a United States Commission began sittings in London to hear evidence about claims regarding war inventions.

Lieut.-Colonel Joseph McMullen, the Chairman of the Commission, said that the Commission had to inquire into certain claims made by British subjects for the use of inventions by the United States Government during the war.

"One of the inventions," said Colonel McMullen, "is the steel helmet. Our Army experimented with various types of steel helmet in the war, but the British helmet was adopted."

The Commission sat at the Privy Council office in Downing-street.

Steering Orders in Navy.

A Fleet Order states that from January 1, 1933, the existing steering orders "Starboard" and "Port" will be used in the Royal Navy in the direct sense, i.e., with opposite meanings to those at present attached to them. In order to guard against misunderstanding, the orders "Wheel to Starboard" and "Wheel to Port" will be used for a transitional period of six months, after which the reference to the wheel will be dropped.

The change in orders will, under the Merchant Shipping (Safety and Line Convention) Act, come into operation on the same day in the Merchant Navy. It is a result of the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea.

Milton Abbey's Refectory.

The contents of Milton Abbey were sold last month, previous to its passing once more into the hands of Benedictine monks. The Abbey is one of the few which still have the original refectory that existed before the dissolution of the monasteries.

In the course of the eighteenth century Milton Abbey, which was more lightly treated than most of the great houses in Britain of the pre-Reformation period, was transformed into a dwelling house and the refectory was incorporated.

It is a magnificent chamber and dates from the fifteenth century, having been added some 500 years after the abbey was originally founded.

Prince Wields the Plough.

Rewa, Rewa State, India—In order to remove a deep-seated prejudice against farming, particularly touching the plough which exists among high caste Hindus, the Maharaja of Rewa recently wielded the plough himself in the presence of 20,000 of his subjects.

Efforts made earlier by the Durbar had not had the desired effect and therefore the ruler decided to set an example by ploughing with his own hands in public. In a speech delivered on the occasion he dealt with both the economic and social aspects of farming, and declared, "If there is any sin attaching to ploughing with one's own hands, I take it upon myself, in the interests of the state." The demonstration created a great impression.

Origin of the Blazer.

Says a correspondent: "Someone asked me the other day—what was the origin of the word blazer. I heard an explanation.

"According to my informant, it is derived from one of Queen Victoria's warships, the Blazer. In the days before there was an authorised uniform for the lower deck it was customary for captains to devise uniforms according to their fancies.

"Thus, for example, old Admiral Dundas invariably clothed his cutter's crew in suits of Dundas tartan. In the same way the cutter's crew of the contemporary warship Tiger had striped jerseys of yellow and black.

In the case of H.M.S. Blazer, the cutter's crew had a blue jacket with brass buttons. This rig became popular on shore, and when worn by ordinary civilians was called a 'blazer.'"

Lord Willingdon.

Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India, who was 60 last month owes not a little of the success with which he has fulfilled his extremely difficult office to the rare, if not unique, distinction of having served two full terms as a Presidency Governor in India before being called to the Viceroyalty.

He was Governor of Bombay from 1913 till the end of the war, and afterwards Governor of Madras, winning the praise of British and Indians alike by his tactful and energetic administration. Only a few months, too, before his appointment as Viceroy he completed an equally successful term as Governor-General of Canada.

As Mr. Freeman-Thomas, grandson of a former Speaker, he had a distinguished career in Parliament before he became a proconsul.

He has been a keen cricketer since the days of his youth, when he four times played for Eton at Lord's.

"The Miracle" as a Talkie.

The famous Reinhardt spectacle "The Miracle" is to be made into a film—in Hollywood. It is hoped that Reinhardt will himself go to America to direct the production. If negotiations break down, however, it is planned to import some of his chief assistants and collaborators. It seems a pity that the film should not be made, if made it must be, in Germany, for the American producers Warner Brothers, who stampeded the world into talkies, have never shown themselves exponents of what may be called the fine art of the screen and have just stated that henceforth they will have no truck with the making of "highbrow" pictures.

It is therefore not surprising to find that "The Miracle" will have "an all-star cast of principals and approximately five thousand extra players." Save for Loretta Young as the Nun, no details of casting are yet available. But it is to be filmed in technicolour throughout, and, more than this, is to have dialogue "written by a famous (sic) American author." It would therefore seem to be already clear that "The Miracle" is to be a talkie with a vengeance.

We are used to stage plays with little or no action being transferred to the screen, but to turn a dumb show into a talkie is something quite new—perhaps, indeed, that touch of novelty for which the public are for ever pining. Certainly the producers can count on a number of people going to the film, if only to hear what kind of dialogue has been attached.

SCHEMES are being advanced for establishing a feeder air service, linking up with the main Imperial Airways Cairo-Cape Town route. Such auxiliary services already instituted proved most successful and a network of them is contemplated.

An example of feeder air lines is the coastal route operation, where Wilson Airways link up Dares-Salaam and other towns in Tanganyika Territory with the Imperial Airways route at Nairobi. Well over 1,000 miles of auxiliary air lines serving districts far removed from the main route are represented by these services.

HEAVY DUTIES ON IRON AND STEEL

IMPORTS INTO BRITAIN CUT NEARLY IN HALF

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 22.

THE continuance for two years, from October 25, of the existing protective duties of 33.1/3 per cent. on iron and steel, is decreed in a Treasury order, subject, to satisfactory progress being made in industrial reorganisation.

The report of the Import Duties Advisory Committee, recommending a continuance, says the immediate object of the duties has, in a great measure, been achieved, inasmuch as the imports subject thereto have fallen by over 45 per cent. in the three months ending September, compared with the corresponding period last year. But the menace of foreign competition is still serious, it finds.

Internal Position.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, Oct. 22.

The report of the Import Duties Advisory Committee with regard to iron and steel duties has been issued, accompanied by a Treasury order for the further continuance for a period of two years of the duties now in force.

The Committee states such a continuance is to be subject to satisfactory progress being made in the preparation of a scheme of reorganisation and in putting an approved scheme into force.

This is the first report by the National Committee for the iron and steel industry, appointed to work out schemes of reorganisation and development, and recovery from the severity of general industrial depression in iron and steel industries of whole world.

Statements by authoritative representatives of the great continental organisations of the iron and steel manufacturers are cited to the effect that export sales this year have been at prices far below the cost of production. Before adoption of the protective measures, British industry was suffering from this uneconomic competition to an exceptional degree, owing to its relatively high standards of wages and labour conditions.

The National Committee urges some greater measure of assistance in regard to tariff protection for a limited number of products and removal of the uncertainty as to the duration of existing duties.

The Import Duties Advisory Committee shares the National Committee's views as to the difficulties which the uneconomic foreign competition puts in the way of reorganisation and as to the desirability of removing any uncertainty regarding the continuance of the protective policy. For the present no increase in the existing level of protection is recommended, but if, when a satisfactory reorganisation scheme is ready foreign dumping has not ceased, they will proceed to recommend such further protective measures as may be necessary.

NEW VESSEL FOR ISLAND TRADE

S.S. FRIDERUN ARRIVES IN HONG KONG

The s.s. Friderun which is to join the popular s.s. Bremerhaven on the Hong Kong-New Guinea branch service of the Norddeutscher Lloyd, Bremen, arrived yesterday.

The Friderun will leave here on or about November 5, 1932 on her maiden voyage to Madaug, Rabaul, Kavieng and 12 other ports in the Mandated Territory of New Guinea, and with the s.s. Bremerhaven will maintain a regular monthly freight and passenger service from Hong Kong to New Guinea ports. The Bremerhaven includes the Solomon Islands in her itinerary and calls at about 15 other ports that are not touched at by the Friderun. A round trip on either one of these vessels takes about 50 days.

This service of the N.D.L. offers at very moderate rates excellent facilities for round trip passengers interested in a visit to South Sea Islands. The Friderun has good accommodation for 20 cabin passengers and is equipped with two bathrooms, three shower baths and a swimming pool on deck. She is furthermore equipped to carry some 40 Asiatic passengers in cabins situated on the main deck. Needless to say, she can also carry deck-passengers.

Particulars of the Friderun are as follows:—Built in 1922 by

Messrs. Frerichs in Minswarden with a gross registered tonnage of 2,527 tons and net registered tonnage of 1,350 tons, D.W. capacity 3,900 tons. Length, 312'. Her engines of 1,200 I.H.P., were re-installed in 1928 enabling her to maintain an average speed of approximately 10 knots per hour.

The Managing Agents for the Hong Kong-New Guinea Service of the N.D.L. are Messrs. Melchers and Co., Queen's Building.

DISARMAMENT DISCUSSIONS

MR. DAVIS CONSULTS BRITISH EXPERTS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

LONDON, Oct. 22.

Relief in the success sof the mission of the American emissary, Mr. Norman Davis, who is seeking a closer understanding between America and Great Britain in the question of disarmament, has gained ground lately, and the assurance that Mr. Davis' talks with British experts and statesmen have been eminently satisfactory is engendered by the fact that President Hoover's representative has already remained in London for more than a fortnight.

Mr. Davis, it is expected, will stay here for at least another week. He will complete his business in England, as far as possible, before visiting Paris and Geneva. He will probably see Premier Herriot of France, en route to the League of Nations headquarters. This visit, however, will depend on the result of the London conversations.

To-day Mr. Davis and Premier MacDonald will discuss details of their respective plans for disarmament and economic re-establishment.

Not Discussing War.

Mr. Davis has seen the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Matsudaira, in the course of his stay here. Reuter learns that the discussions between these two were of a purely general nature, and were confined to disarmament plans. It is understood that Mr. Davis did not, in an official capacity in any event, discuss the situation in the Far East and the war that is continuing, sporadically, in the northeast section of China.

Mr. Davis is an expert economist and his work in international discussions in the past has been crowned with signal success. He came to London recently for the express purpose of meeting British ministers and experts on a dual mission: to prepare the way for American participation in the World Economic Conference, the date of which has been set for January next, and to attempt to reconcile President Hoover's proposals with the British disarmament programme.

He has met, among others, Sir Walter Layton, one of Britain's leading authorities in the economic and disarmament discussions and in the relation of these two subjects to each other.

SWISS ON SERIOUS CHARGE

$2,000 BAIL GRANTED

In granting bail to Henry Urmi, a Swiss resident, described as a motor engineer who appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Magistracy Saturday on a serious charge in respect of Chung Wan, an 18-year-old unmarried girl living at Wanchai, the Magistrate said—It is a serious case, but I don't want to keep you locked up for seven days without a hearing. I think a thousand dollars cash and a thousand dollars surety will be required. Can that be raised?

Mr. W. A. MacKinley, who is defending the accused intimated that it could be raised.

To Report Daily.

His Worship said that he wanted to make quite sure that the bail was not too light for the grave offence alleged. He directed that Urmi should daily report himself at the No. 2 (Wanchai) Police Station at 11 a.m. In response to Mr. Mackinley, who indicated that Urmi might have some difficulty in finding the surety, the Magistrate consented to take the alternative of an additional cash bond of a thousand dollars.

Accused was formally remanded for another week, and his Worship provisionally fixed 2.30 p.m. on November 1 for the hearing of the case.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS HOOVER

LOANS TO CRIPPLED NATIONS CRITICISED

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.

WILD applause greeted Mr. Franklin Roosevelt's pronouncement that the Democrats proposed to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. Mr. Roosevelt attacked President Hoover's disastrous bond policy of lending money to backward and crippled nations. He said he intended to prevent the hard-earned dollars of investors being frittered away abroad, and asked what President Hoover had done towards eliminating the abuses which were alleged to have resulted in the Insull failure. He advocated Government intervention on behalf of the railroads and for the protection of bondholders.

"SPIRIT OF FUN" ARRIVES

FILM MAGNATE'S FLYING VISIT TO THE COLONY

Mr. Arthur Loew, first vice President of Metro-Goldyn-Mayer, Mr. Joseph Rosthal, his friend and legal adviser, and Capt. James B. Dickson, the certified pilot, arrived in the Colony and left again over the week-end in their aeroplane, "Spirit Of Fun."

Leaving Wyndham, Western Australia at 6 a.m. on Wednesday on their first stage of the transoceanic "hop" to the Far East, the airmen arrived here on Saturday and landed at Kai Tack at 3.30 in the afternoon. The airmen stayed in Hong Kong for a little more than fifteen hours and set off again a little after 6 a.m. yesterday morning.

Before touching Hong Kong the "Spirit of Fun" had made a 17,000 miles tour of South America, visiting all the important capitals, and has broken the existing records over every single flight made in the southern continent of America.

The aeroplane is bound for South Africa where the passengers will participate in the opening at Johannesburg of the Metro Theatre—a theatre to be operated by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Films, Ltd.

It is interesting to note that throughout the long "hop" Shell Motor Spirit was used to the entire satisfaction of the pilot, Capt. Dickson.

The "Spirit of Fun" is a Lockheed Orion 'plane and is owned by the Hal Roach Studios. It is one of the fastest passenger airplanes in the air and is capable of a cruising speed of 220 m.p.h. The craft is able to carry six persons including the pilot and has a full length bed for the comfort of the passengers.

WHEN "TOMMY" RETURNS HOME

RAILWAY BUFFETS TO CATER FOR HIS NEEDS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 22.

SOLDIERS newly returned from abroad will in future find railway buffets to cater for their needs on the journey from their port of arrival to the barracks. An arrangement has been made by the War Office with the railways, under which troops will present vouchers, the value of which will vary according to the length of the journey and the time of day. Meat pies will be of an average weight of 4 ounces, and sandwiches must contain at least an ounce of meat.

WITWATERSRAND GOLD FIND

278 MILLION TONS OF ORE IN RESERVE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 22.

FOLLOWING investigations over two years, it is estimated that there are 278,000,000 tons of ore reserves in the extension of the Witwatersrand, a find of considerable importance. The discovery was due to chance, a German geologist, Dr. Krahmann, who was picnicing at Mulders Drift, noticing rocks containing iron oxide. Options were obtained on a line of farms in the entire belt. Experts are of the opinion that the reef is nearly twice as long as was hitherto estimated.

EMPIRE RICE-GROWING

MODERN MILL TO BE ERECTED NEAR THE THAMES

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

LONDON, Oct. 22.

WITH the object of securing for Empire rice-growing the monopoly which foreign rices have hitherto obtained in Britain, a large and extremely modern rice mill will be erected near the Thames by a group of London business men, working in conjunction with a group of Burma rice-millers. The scheme is regarded as an outcome of the Ottawa Agreements, under which a penny per pound duty is imposed on foreign rice.

It is hoped that the products of the mill will be on the market by the end of February. The wholesale price will be about 270 shillings a ton, whereas Spanish rice, plus the new duty and the cost of distribution, is about £23.

OBITUARY

CAPT. R. G. GROUNDWATER.

Widespread regret was felt when the news was announced on Saturday of the sudden death of Captain R. C. Groundwater, master of the tug Henry Keswick.

A telegram conveying the news was received by the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company and stated that Captain Groundwater, who had gone on Home leave in the Ranpura, had passed away at Marseilles.

The late Captain Groundwater was born in Aberdeen. Before the War he was with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and when hostilities broke out he joined the 10th Cruiser Squadron. In 1919 he returned to the C.P.R., making trips from San Francisco to Manila, and in 1921 he joined the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company to take over the Henry Keswick which had just been built. He was the first master of the tug, and he held the position up to the time of his death. Well known and popular in Hong Kong, Capt. Groundwater was a prominent member of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, the Kowloon Football Club and the Kowloon Dock Recreation Club. He leaves a widow and four children, who are at present at Home, with whom much sympathy will be felt.

BEST NEWS IN MANY MONTHS

JAP. DELEGATION EN ROUTE TO GENEVA

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

LONDON, Oct. 23.

RECALLING the one-time danger of Japanese secession from Geneva, the Observer remarks: the fact that the Japanese delegation is now on its way to Geneva is the best news the world has had in any field in many months and asks anent Matsuoka's statement that he will not accept the tenth Lytton point, is the world so young or is diplomacy so untried that surprise can be caused by this statement?

Climbing down from the heights is one of the preliminaries of conciliation and harmony and we may await the discussions with some confidence of their success.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Observer says that in London the spirit and practical proposals of the report are recognised as wholly harmonious with the consistent advice given by British spokesmen at Geneva since the controversy reached a climax in the summer of 1931. He adds that the opinion here fully agrees with Matsuoka that the lack of effective government in China is one of the basic problems, but it is believed that a solution of the problem will be found in the Lytton Recommendations, the advantages of which to Japan and the whole of the Far East are likely to be more fully appreciated by Matsuoka when he engages in a frank discussion at Geneva.

CORKRAN GOES TO MUKDEN

TO EXPLAIN HIS ABSENCE FROM DUTY

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NEWCHWANG, Oct. 23.

LOOKING pale and walking with a slight limp, Corkran went to Mukden to-day to report to his firm the uncontrollable circumstances which accounted for his absence from duty.

When interviewed by Reuter, Corkran revealed that he and Mr Pawley were on the eve of being rescued, five days after they were captured. On the approach of Manchukuo soldiers who enquired if he had seen the captives, the bandit chief, Pei Pai Tien, who had hurriedly donned the captives clothes directed them southward and when the soldiers were out of sight he hurried the captives northward. Neither had a chance to escape as they were compelled to lie down in a ditch with revolvers pressed to their sides.

"On the whole the bandits were not bad fellows, although some were brutal," said Mr. Corkran.

COMMUNISM IN ANTACHAN

AGITATORS TERRORISE FARMERS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

HARBIN, Oct. 23.

THE Russian Press states that the movement among Chinese refugees in the Antachan districts is now of a Communist character and leaders are recruiting farm labourers for "Red Spears" and "Big Swords," with the slogan "Join up in the peoples' army. Defenders of the oppressed workers."

All villages are being systematically propagandized by professional agitators whose main plank is 2 cows, 2 pigs and no more for each family.

The agitators and a detachment of commanders are requisitioning grain, foodstuffs, livestock and the terrorised farmers are quitting their homesteads.

THE LYTTON REPORT

WANG CHING WEI PRAISES FINDINGS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22.

MR. WANG CHING WEI, who is leaving for Europe to-day, issued a farewell message this morning, in which he refers to the Lytton Report as lucid and impartial, and reminds the League that it is the responsibility of that body to enforce its own Covenant. He appeals for unity in China: "In union lies strength, and in unity and co-operation lies salvation."

Mr. Wang hopes that he will speedily regain his health in Germany and that he will be able to return and serve China.

WANG CHING WEI'S PARTING MESSAGE

On October 20, Mr. Wang Ching Wei, President of the Executive Yuan, issued his parting message, reviewing first of all the circumstances under which he accepted the highest political post of the land save that of Chairman of the National Government, and giving his views on the Lytton Report.

Mr. Wang points out that he left Canton last October for Shanghai, and proceeded to the capital in January this year. He craves the indulgence of his fellow-countrymen for his lack of achievements but is frank enough to reveal the dilemma with which his own position has been confronted. He explained his embarrassment thus: "The fact that in political issues the leaders of the government are divided in their views, makes difficult the application of the resolution "United exertion for the national crisis;" on the other hand, in order to move the leaders to sink their differences, the same motto should be advocated.

Referring to the Lytton Commission Report Mr. Wang, after referring to the fact that he was only able to glance over the report on his sick bed, reviews it from a number of angles culminating in six points which may be summarised as follows:—

1. China in pursuance of her love of peace did the right thing by placing at the outset the Northeastern affair in the hands of the League of Nations as the League Covenant was binding on all Member States.

2. The League of Natios is bound to make the Covenant a living reality. This being so, the League has the obligation of acting, now that the facts have been laid before it, it not being enough for the League to have endeavoured on previous occasions to get Japan to respect the League's decisions based on the Covenant.

3. The fact that Lytton Commission, after satisfying itself that the invasion of the Northeast was the result of Nippon's premeditated military preparations, has proposed a settlement so inconsistent with the fact-finding, is to be much regretted.

4. Since the Commission has arrived at the point where the responsibility for the outbreak should be borne by Japan on legal, political and moral grounds, it is astonishing that it should have avoided the same course of getting Japan to account for her acts, but instead proposed a formula which could only mean that the League lacks the courage of its convictions.

5. The people should now choose between either peace or war for the settlement of the case. I believe the sound policy is to accept the League's moral backing and to devise means to make possible the effective exercise of the League's restraining influence, weak though it has shown itself to be.

6. The most vital task before the nation is a complete union of purpose and efforts so that with the Central Covernunment and the Provincial Government cooperating the country will act like one man.—Canton Sun.

GEN. HAN RESIGNS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENERAL Han Fu Chu to-day handed in his resignation. It is generally believed that his action is the outcome of his inability to accept Nanking's orders to withdraw his troops from the defence area originally appointed to him.

LIBERTY BAY'S EXERCISE GALLOP

DUNBAR'S "CRACK" LOWERS MILE RECORD IN A CANTER: BAG AND BAGGAGE UNPLACED

JOAQUIM PAYS BIG DIVIDEND IN AUSTRALIAN CLASS

[By "MORNING DEW."]

The opinion that Liberty Bay is the best China pony ever to race in Hong Kong was amply justified on Saturday when the pony won the final Aggregate Stakes of the season over a mile in 1 minute 37.3 seconds, which is faster than Apollo's record time for the distance.

Bag and Baggage, wanting four points to tie with Gleneagles' aggregate, found the task of trying to account for Liberty Bay so difficult that the pony crumpled and failed even to get a place. A fast race was chosen for him and he stuck it as long as he could, but by the time the pony turned into the straight, he could hardly walk. Liberty Bay on the other hand, came home on tight reins and was never even extended!

Some very good riding was seen on the course and, needless to add, some very bad judgment was also shown. In some cases, what seemed to be practical certainties were sacrificed by the jockeys due to bad handling.

MR. HARRIMAN'S BRILLIANT WIN

In handing out the laurels I think I should give full marks to Harriman for his brilliant race on Mon Talisman when he won the last event from a field of sixteen. He took his pony out early and kept him among the leaders, and, although S. Y. Laing tried to lead all the way home on Cy-pres, Harriman was content to wait within two lengths of him and never succumbed to the temptation of trying to pass Cy-pres. The latter was making a comparatively fast pace and several ponies, with sporting chances in this race, wasted their energy trying to catch up with the leader just before the village bend. Mon Talisman wasn't asked for an effort until the straight was reached when he drew up with the fast-tiring Cy-pres and after a brief struggle drew in front to win by three quarters of a length.

Fred Roza also was responsible for a good bit of riding. He brought home Joaquim in the second race to win from The Rainbow and Evening Star. The last-named, with 170 pounds on the saddle tried to make a fast race of it and Pan thereby threw away what chances he had of winning, for the pony led by many lengths when entering the straight, but by that time was so spent that he was passed a hundred yards from home by both Joaquim and The Rainbow, both of which came up with a burst in the last quarter mile. Joaquim had a fair start, but Roza rode him patiently and although the pony was running well, his jockey was satisfied with fourth place for the first half mile, reserving him for the tussle in the straight. This proved a wise move and when Evening Star tired, Joaquim thrilled the crowd by passing him and holding down all opposition long enough to win. He paid the biggest dividend of the day.

The Aggregate Stakes need little description. As might will be expected, "Gussy" Roza went all out at the start to try and get the lead for Bag and Baggage, but to no purpose because Frost on Liberty Bay was bent on the same object. The result was that both ponies stayed together over the first half mile, the times for the first two quarters being 28 second and 28.4 seconds, respectively. Then Bag and Baggage fell away and Sadko reached him at the village bend. Liberty Bay was three lengths in front entering the straight and won without being in the least extended. Sadko made a brave effort, but to no purpose and finished second, two and a half lengths behind. Liberty Bay's time for the third and fourth quarters were 30.4 seconds and 30, respectively. Sadko's effort over this mile was the best he has ever shown in the Colony as he must have done something like 1.38.

Of the novices, Chanson is proving with every outing that he is a clever little horseman, and, when he comes out of the novices class, Hong Kong will have a useful jockey. Riding Pride of Tsingtao in Saturday, he made the rest of the field look like cart horses and came home all by himself, leading all the way round. The pony led from start to finish and accounted for quite a classy field.

As I have said, the "Star" stable did quite well. Lunar Star won the opening race and Evening Star, Blue Star and Bright Star finished third. Not so bad for one afternoon!

Soares won the "C" class race with Navy Hall and rode with plenty of confidence. The pony was hemmed in by the leaders and from the Press stand it looked as though he could not find an opening when going up the Road and again at the three furlong post. However, Soares broke through when some of the leaders began to wear down and leading into the straight came in by himself. A hundred yards from home however, his supporters had a shock when the heavily weighted Workable Stag came along with a big rush and all but passed him.

An interesting innovation at Saturday's races was that whenever a novice jockey had a mount, his name was hoised in red on the board. This had the effect of showing to all punters which of the jockeys were still in the novices class. The idea is a very good one.

No comment on Saturday's races, however, can be complete without a tribute being paid to the starter, who got the fields off beautifully in several races. Mr. Sleap has accomplished what so many of his predecessors have thought impossible—he has managed to get China ponies to line up in a row at the gate and get them to stand still before sending them off!

INTERPORT TENNIS

SHANGHAI GAIN HONOUR

The 1932 Tennis Interport between Hong Kong and Shanghai played at Kowloon Cricket Club on Saturday and Sunday resulted in a brilliant victory for the visitors by the odd match. The series was decided when Shanghai snatched the first three matches but Hong Kong rallied to bring the score to the closest possible ending. The homesters' sequence of successes on their own courts has thus been broken for this is their first reverse in Hong Kong since 1919.

The matches resulted as follows:

Guy Cheng (Shanghai) beat E. C. Fincher 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

J. L. Wade and R. Canavarro (Shanghai) beat M. K. Lo and M. W. Lo 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Gordon Lum (Shanghai) beat S. A. Rumjahn 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Tsui Wai Pui (Hong Kong) beat J. L. Wade 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

S. A. Rumjahn and H. D. Rumjahn (Hong Kong) beat Gordon Lum and Guy Cheng 9-7, 6-3, 8-6.

On Saturday Guy Cheng had already beaten Fincher, but the Lo's held Wade and Canavarro to 2 sets all. Yesterday morning the match was continued and the visitors producing better form ran out with a lead of 5-1. The brothers made a stand but was forced to concede the set at 6-3.

The No. 1 Singles which followed showed Gordon Lum in irresistible form, and in a convincing and spectacular exhibition he smothered Rumjahn in straight sets. Lum's service was a treat to watch, while his generalship proved much too good for the local man.

Tsui Wai Pui then cheered Hong Kong's followers up by a splendid victory over J. L. Wade. Youth was well served, and although the Shanghai captain engaged his opponent in many long driving rallies, he found the pace much too hot.

In the last match of the series, Guy Cheng and Gordon Lum met the Rumjahn cousins the No. 1 Doubles. Play reached a high standard. The Rumjahns although winning in straight sets were stretched to the limit, for both in the first and third sets their opponents led at 5-2.

RAIN HALTS PLAY IN MATCH AGAINST W. AUSTRALIA

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PERTH, Oct. 22.

NO play was possible here to-day in the West Australia v. M.C.C. match, owing to rain.

The scores at present are: M.C.C. first innings, 334-8. The Nawab of Patandi knocked up a brilliant 160, while Herbert Sutcliffe obtained 54.

THE AUSTRALIANS

A BRITISH ESTIMATES.

A Home critic makes the following estimate of the Australians of to-day. Has any fellow-countryman in Hong Kong anything to say in reply?

Wall, they say, has improved, but would I take him in exchange for Larwood or Bowes? Ironmonger is certainly very accurate, but, if he couldn't do real damage against us in 1928-9, why should he now that he's nearer fifty than forty? Macabe and Reilly are both lively medium-pace bowlers, and may take a lot of wearing down, but are either as formidable as Voce, who is as strong as a horse and can bowl straight or leg-theory to order? Of course, Fleetwood-Smith may be a real surprise-packet with his left-hand googlies, but I expect the issue will largely hang on Grimmett, whom age does not seem to wither or custom stale. But this new "mystery ball" is just Press bunkum, and, after all, his twenty-three wickets in the 1928-9 Tests did cost him 44 runs each, and I can't see why our batting shouldn't make life even more expensive.

The Bradman Bogey.

Of course the Australians will be a very tough batting proposition: Bill Woodfull, with his non-existent bat-lift, marvellous tenacity, and unwearied patience, is just about the hardest man to get out in the world: on the last tour only the new ball seemed to offer much hope at him, and he's a master at "farming" the bowler who looks like outing the man at the other end. Ponsford, judging by 1930, is no longer Larwood's rabbit, though he may not relish Bowes. Jackson, who might have been a second Victor Trumper, is still not fit, but they say a young man named Pingleton is something like as good, and these young Australians seem to jump into Test cricket fully fledged.

Kippax is a lovely player, of almost the Lionel Palairet school, and Macabe is said to be much better than before and goodness knows, that was good enough. But they look as if they might have quite something of a tail, now that Oldfield has stopped making runs, and I can't see why we shouldn't get them out for reasonable scores if——: yes, damn it—one always comes back to that; but after all the man is human, and it is not in human nature, or in the moral order of the universe for a man to go on making 200 and 300 every time. Sooner or later he must lose form or the "breaks" will go against him, and if once he loses his confidence——! The trouble is that with a Test average of over 100, he has a lot of capital to draw on, but still I somehow believe that this time he won't dominate the whole game, and if he doesn't, Australia can look out for squalls.

"ARSENE LUPIN" AT THE QUEEN'S

LIONEL BARRYMORE DOMINATES THE FILM

"Arsene Lupin" now showing at the Queen's Theatre is chiefly notable for bringing John and Lionel Barrymore together in one picture. The story is an exciting and well-worked out tale of detective versus thief; but which is which it would be unfair to reveal. The setting is Paris or quite a good reproduction of Paris. The brothers make a notable contrast, but the meeting shows clearly the force and sincerity of Lionel, which bring him right out of the ordinary ranks of star players. Here he has a role after his own heart and it is he upon whom interest and sympathy settle. John acts with his usual grace, but he lacks his brother's genius. Karen Morley makes an attractive and adequate heroine.

The story telling is good, and the crowded houses greatly appreciated the film.

Preceding the feature picture is an interesting news-reel showing the opening of the Ottawa Conference. More than the usual "snippet" is given and one hears the Governor-General read the King's message to the Conference and big extracts from the speeches of Mr. Bennett, the Canadian Prime Minister, and Mr. Stanley Baldwin.

"TO-MORROW AND TO-MORROW"

COMING TO THE KING'S

A trade notice states:—

For twelve years, Burns Mantle, nationally known dramatic critic, has published a year book of the ten best dramatic stage productions of the year and his selections have come to carry an official flavour.

His latest volume covering the season 1930-31, to be published shortly, include Phillip Barry's latest Broadway stage hit, "To-morrow and To-morrow," which many more critics pronounced the best dramate of the season, and which also caused wide public discussion due to its extraordinary theme, comprehended in of the nary theme, comprehended in the queen's: "Is a woman morally and psychologically bound to accept a childess marriage?"

Ruth Chatterton is now appearing in the stellar rôle of Paramount's filmization of "To-morrow and To-morrow," with Paul Lukas in the leading male rôle. This intriguing picture drama is the feature at the King's Theatre starting on Thursday next.

Two playwrights now under contract to Paramount as film writers will have plays included in Mantle's new volume. They are Louis Woitzenkorn, who adapted "Ladies of the Big House," and whose "Five Star Final" was chosen; and Vicki Baum, in Hollywood to write an original for the screen, who is represented by her "Grand Hotel."

Among the current "The Beat" is "The Barretts of Wimpole" which

The Honourable Willie Tatham (Owen Nares) and his wife, Margot, (Gertrude Lawrence) are spending their honeymoon at Juan Les Pins, when Willie is recalled to London by an urgent telegram. Lord Grenham (Hugh Wakefield), his incorrigibly flirtatious old father, and senior partner in the business, has been neglecting the office to take dancing lessons. Willie advises Margot to move to a small, quiet hotel while he is away, and promises to be back in a week.

Willie, coping with arrears of work at the office, is constantly interrupted by telephone calls from his father's girl friends. One day when Grenham has arranged to take Kitty Lake to lunch, his old friend, Lady Finton (Marie Lohr) comes to the office and insists upon his taking her. Old Grenham persuades Willie to take Kitty Lake off his hands. After two weeks Margot rings Willie up at the office, and tells him she is so bored that she will start a flirtation with the first attractive man she meets if he does not return at once. Karl Von de Heyde, (Harold Huth) a fellow guest, who has mainly tried to make Margot's acquaintance, overhears part of the conversation. He makes a note of Lord Grenham's name and telephone number, and perseveres until he wins Margot's friendship. He thinks she is not married, and she does not undeceive him.

Grenham becomes friendly with a dancer, and promises to attend the opening of a new cabaret at which she is to appear. Among his guests on the occasion are Kitty and Willie. Willie is terribly bored until Kitty takes him to the bar. After a drink or two he cheers up, and is innocently kissing Kitty when Margot arrives to look for him, knowing that Karl has fallen in love with her, Margot has fled from danger. Margot refuses to forgive Willie and Grenham pleads with her on his son's behalf in vain. Karl calls on Lord Grenham in London and asks for his help in finding Margot.

Seeing a chance to force Margot to forgive Willie, Grenham invites Karl to his country estate, where he is entertaining a house party, including Margot and Willie.

Margot is dismayed when she discovers the identity of Grenham's guest, but manages to send a note to Karl, begging him to pretend not to know her. He does as she asks, and makes arrangements to return to Vienna immediately. Margot apologises for her treatment of him, and after he has gone Lord Grenham effects a happy reconciliation between Margot and Willie, who decide never to be separated again.

was produced and directed by Guthrie McClintic, now a Paramount director, McClintic's wife, Katharine Cornell, is starred in the play.

The remaining six dramas are "Elizabeth the Queen," "Once in a Lifetime," "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Alison's House," "As Husband's Go," and "Overture."

DUTCH OLYMPIAD SWIMMER

DECLARES SHE WAS POISONED

The Hague, Oct. 15.—A sensation has been caused throughout the Netherlands by a statement made by the famous swimmer and holder of the world-record for the hundred metres back-stroke, Marie Braun-Philipsen, on her return from the United States, asserting that she had not been incapacitated for the Olympic Games by an illness but by a surreptitious injection of an alcalic poison which brought her to death's door. Miss Braun's sudden illness on the eve of the 100 metres back-stroke competition was at first officially attributed to the bite of a poisonous insect which it was believed she had received in a crowd. Now, however, it appears that the "insect" was a fully charged hypodermic, though the physician who voiced the suspicion does not seem to be able to prove it with absolute certainty.

It is stated that Miss Braun who passed five weeks in a hospital where her life was already despaired of, must withdraw from all future competitions for the next two years, which practically means the end of her career.—Transocean Kuomin.

EVENING PYJAMAS

The somewhat exaggrated extravagance of the first beach pyjamas has long since been discarded. We should not criticise this period of its history too severely, however, but rather treat it with some indulgence. After all, it did enjoy a tremendous vogue. When evening pyjamas and their first appearance, it was easy to see that the spirit of fantasy had found another outlet.

A well-founded criticism of the evening pyjama is that many people never properly understand its use.

The pyjama carries the spirit of relaxation along with it. Even at the smartest resorts, a woman is not expected to be as formal as she would be in town. She needs a garment which leaves her movements unhampered, which is cool and yet possessed of a certain degree of smartness in fabric and cut. The evening pyjama has all this.

GOSSIP & FACT.

Ronald Colman to Sue.

Mr. Samuel Goldwyn has offered an apology to Mr. Ronald Colman the English film star, who is bringing a suit for £400,000 damages against his employers, Samuel Goldwyn Productions, for an alleged libel. It is said that the film caused statements to be inserted in the Press which cast aspersions on Mr. Colman's character and acting ability. The statements declared that Mr. Colman was a screen lover who made his amorous conquests before the camera seem more realistic by "getting slightly more than drunk" before appearing on the set. Mr. Goldwyn says that although he was not responsible for the phrase which appeared and knew nothing about it, until he saw it in print, he has offered an apology. Mr. Colman, whose contract with the firm, has two and a half years to run, is scheduled to appear in a picture in which the plot revolves around a drunkard.

One More Blonde.

Little Mitzi Green is the latest star to succumb to the platinum craze. She has to have fair hair for her part in "Little Orphan Annie." On previous occasions when she has been required to have golden locks, she has worn a wig. In real life Mitzi's hair is flaming red.

Something New in Cinemas.

All news cinemas are described as "super," but the one which may be erected in southern London shortly appears to deserve the description. If the architects' hopes materialise, the building will differ from its contemporaries in many ways, especially in the matter of temperature. Several cinemas have wonderful control over this already, but the latest may achieve fresh triumphs by a mechanical regulation of the heat all the year round. The inside temperature will be fixed according to that of the outer air. Another even more unusual prospect is the possibility of five aisles instead of the average two or three. It is anticipated that this idea will make it easier for onlookers to reach their seats, even if it means sacrificing a certain amount of seating space. Provision for dancing and for two soda fountains are other feature contemplated.

Striking Coincidence.

A striking coincidence, even for Hollywood, is seen in Columbia's "The Bitter Tea of General Yen," starring Barbara Stanwyck. Four Japanese sisters are all appearing in this new Frank Capra production, with the eldest, Toshia Mori, in the coveted role of Mah-Li, second in importance only to those played by the star and Nils Asther. According to their father, who is a prominent Los Angeles physician, Miss Mori's sisters will not follow a screen career, but will be trained to enter the medical profession.
